

HOW TO USE THIS BOOKLET

For speedy reference, Class I celebrations have been printed in BOLD CAPITALS, Class II in bold lower case and Class III in ordinary Arial.

For Class I & II Holy Days, the appropriate day of the week to suit that saint is used, as defined in this booklet.

For Class III Holy Days, the category such as 'of Bishops', is in italics, which assumes that the normal office of the day will be used and, if desired, the refrains from the Common of Holy Days (p 482 - 492) added. Only very occasionally are there proper psalms or readings for Class III celebrations (usually New Testament celebrations).

The Office Week relates only to this office book. In a non-green season, such as Lent, the Office Week refers only to the Midday Prayer readings.

Seasons running into one another sometimes requires a slight, unavoidable repetition, e.g. at Easter 7 and Pentecost, Midday Prayer readings are both Week 7 so as to make the Sundays following match up with the Ordinary Time Week number.

The word 'propers' indicates that there are available proper refrains for celebrating a particular feast, as against those in The Common of Holy Days or in the text of the Office for the day.

Page numbers are given where there are proper psalms, canticles, readings and collects in the Office Book (but see next paragraph).

The Calendar of the Church of England as authorised in Common Worship - Services and Prayers for the Church of England has now been incorporated into this Ordo. To aid users of The Daily Office SSF (which is printed with a previous Calendar) the page number where a celebration can be found is printed: if the celebration is being kept on the same or a different date, then The Daily Office, SSF page reference is given; where the celebration is new, the book Exciting Holiness (EH) page reference is given (Common Worship - Services and Prayers for the Church of England does not include collects for Lesser Festivals). The EH page number refers to the first edition of that book: a second edition has been published which includes all the Calendars of the Anglican Provinces in the British Isles: but this booklet refers only to the original edition.

There are no set collects for Commemorations: if a Commemoration is kept as a Lesser Festival, the Common of Holy Days should be used.
